Subject: Estimate for Roadway Slope Stabilization on 1700 Arnold's Creek Rd. in Grant

County, Kentucky

Dear Sirs:

Project Notes

Our stabilization proposal addresses two slide areas on 1700 Arnold's Creek Rd.. in Grant County, Kentucky. The site is 210 LF in total. The GPS coordinates are N38.70550, W84.685690. This proposal is only for the work noted.

View of 1700 Arnold's Creek Rd

Slide Repair

STA 0+00 to 1+50 (beginning at the end of the existing drilled shaft wall):

The work on this section will consist of GSI excavating and shaping the existing slope beginning approximately 1-2 feet from the edge of pavement, extending 11 feet down on a 0.5H:1V slope. The excavation will need to be day-lighted out on the bottom for natural drainage and the material hauled off site.

We are proposing a 10-ft tall wall for the full length of the repair. The 10-ft tall section will receive a 6-in reinforced shotcrete surface treatment, which will stabilize the roadway. Also, we will install up to 20-ft soil nails on 10-ft centers to be used as drains.

We are proposing a 2-ft thick Geosythetically Confined Soil (GCS) "burrito wrap" shoulder buildup to restore the lost pavement section.

STA 1+50 to 2+10:

The work on this section will consist of GSI excavating a micropile cap beginning approximately 1-2 feet from the edge of pavement, extending the length of the slide. We are proposing a micropile wall for the full length of the repair, with one row of soil nails embedded in the cap.

Following the repairs, the GSI will place riprap and shot rock at the base of the repaired area to provide additional scour resistance.

Items Furnished by Client

This road will need to be closed during our repair work. Our contract calls for us to do our specialty work and your forces to perform all other items, as applicable, such as permits, traffic control, paving, striping, guard rail work, a 1000-gal water truck, etc.
